Lucite[®] L Cast Acrylic Sheet Now Available with Microban[®] Antimicrobial Protection

Memphis, Tenn., Tuesday, June 30, 2009 – Lucite International announces that its clear Lucite L cast acrylic sheet is now exclusively available with Microban, a global leader in built-in antimicrobial protection for medical applications such as facial tissue, glove and paper towel dispensers as well as test tube holders, and much more.

Lucite L clear cast acrylic sheet offers a myriad of applications across a range of industries including medical and dental tools and equipment, retail displays, building skylights and foodservice sneeze guards.

Lucite first introduced Microban in its spa line Celestial Granite™ series of acrylic sheet in 1998. Microban antimicrobial product protection is built-in to Lucite acrylic during the manufacturing process and inhibits the growth of microbes such as bacteria, mold and mildew that can cause stains, odors and deterioration of the product.

Along with Lucite, Microban is used in products and materials marketed by other well-known consumer brands including Bissell, Kenmore and Rubbermaid.

“We are proud to offer fabricators and manufacturers the top-of-the-line in antimicrobial protection with Microban when it comes to their end0line consumer-oriented products. In an increasingly savvy marketplace, the Microban brand in partnership with our Lucite brand, sets us apart,” Chris Robinson, sheet business manager for Lucite International says.

“Particularly for the medical and foodservice industries where bacteria are a serious health concern, the Microban brand brings tremendous added value and confidence.”
